Feb 2020– Still Working

Aiimtech

Led the complete UI/UX design process for MediQuince, a desktop and mobile application product, ensuring a user-friendly and responsive experience across platforms.

Handled all graphic design tasks, including marketing materials, promotional assets, and Instagram posts, driving product visibility and customer engagement.

Designed UI/UX for multiple service-based projects, delivering tailored design solutions to meet client requirements.

Created and managed content for websites, ensuring clear communication of brand identity and product offerings.

Took ownership as the sole designer, independently managing all design-related activities, including concept development, execution, and delivery.

Collaborated closely with developers and stakeholders to translate business needs into intuitive user experiences and impactful designs.

Utilized React.js and basic coding knowledge to work seamlessly with the development team, ensuring design feasibility and smooth implementation.
